During the Week.

Office of The Post,
Houston, Saturday, April 14.
No figures aside from the statement of local receipts were posted at the Cotton Exchange today. The second Easter hollday was generally observed, as was the first, and business in cotton was at a standstill. The local stock of cotton decreased 7000 during the week, the figures now being 25,614

The Liverpool markets will observe Mor day as one of the Easter holidays. The American markets, however, will resums operations Monday morning.

The Liverpool Cotton Gazette says: The character of the distribution of the American crop has gone decidedly against this country the crop itself is nearer 9,000,000 than 11,000,000, the East Indian eron is about half of that of last year, our local stocks ex 18.00c.
